

What Will You Do With Your Share?

Yes, you're a stakeholder in the Illinois River Watershed. Anyone who has an interest in the issues related to the watershed is a stakeholder.

(STAKEHOLDER)

Since we all live in a watershed, we have to be conscious of what goes into our water systems and ultimately into our watershed.

A Watershed is the area of land that receives rainfall and stormwater run-off that drains or seeps into a wetland, stream, river, lake or groundwater.

Taking care of our watershed is taking care of our drinking water, places where kids play, where picnics happen, our furry friends of the wild, the trees and habitat, our residential neighbors and ourselves.
