CULTURE COMMUNITY BEAUTY

Welcome to Bentonville, Arkansas. A unique destination filled with culture and a strong sense of community. A place brimming with arts, cycling, and natural beauty. A new American town.

Bentonville, the Mountain Biking Capital of the World, has experienced a major culture shift in the last decade, becoming a must-visit cycling and arts destination. Whether it's touring Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art, the Momentary, the Amazeum, the Walmart Museum, or just exploring our vast trail network from the downtown square, we guarantee you and your family will have a great time!

As cyclists and runners cross the beautifully bricked intersections of the downtown square, traffic pauses to watch pedestrians venture in and out of restaurants, boutiques, breweries, and coffee shops. In Bentonville, you'll be greeted with both the simple life vibe of days past and the modern must-have amenities found in most urban centers. We like to think of it as a little slice of paradise.

PLAN YOUR TRIP

WHEN SHOULD YOU VISIT BENTONVILLE?

Bentonville is a great place to visit year-round due to excellent weather conditions in the Northwest Arkansas area. Each season provides unique opportunities for visitors to experience enjoyable outdoor and indoor activities. As the home of Walmart, Inc., corporate travel is typically bustling throughout the week, with weekend lodging and transportation rates more affordable to the leisure traveler due to the absence of business travel. However, we encourage visitors to check availability throughout the week, with many Bentonville lodging establishments offering great deals and rates each month.
